

CORRECTIVE SERVICES NSW DECLARATION OF CRIMINAL CHARGES AND OFFENCES

Please note, Corrective Services NSW (CSNSW) undertakes a comprehensive criminal record check on all applicants. You are advised to disclose ALL known charges, including traffic fines. The Criminal Records Act, 1991, Section 12 provides that convictions are never spent in relation to employment in Corrective Services NSW.

As honesty and integrity is an inherent requirement of this position, failure to declare all details or supplying false or misleading information will result in your application deemed ineligible for consideration.

If you have lived in Australia for less than 5 years, you must contact the Consulate or Embassy of your country of origin to obtain certification of a Police character check.

1. Have you ever attracted police attention, been charged with, convicted of, or cautioned (as an adult or juvenile) in respect of any offence (other than an offence against the traffic laws)?

(If you have been charged with any offence, regardless of the outcome of that charge, you MUST declare this. This includes situations where you believe a criminal record has not been recorded).
